MAY SURRENDER

The Eagle has been informed on what is considered good authority that within a short while Graves Kelly, charged with shooting Grady Granger, will surrender to the authorities of Houston county and face trial.

Deputy Sheriff Grady Granger was shot through the heart and killed Saturday night about 10 o'clock by Graves Kelly, a son of the late Representative T. L. Kelly of Houston, who Deputy Sheriff Grady Granger and Talmadge May went on a patrol to search a buggy suspected of containing whisky, a violation of the law according to the best information obtainable.

Sam Glover is said to have come to the county jail and reported that whisky was being sold out of Frogtown, and the two deputies got in an automobile and hastened to the suspected locality.

The officers came upon a buggy which was being driven by a man who was occupied by Taylor Spivey and Graves Kelly, and according to reports, Granger threw his flashlight on the buggy, and on the driver's side of the automobile told the occupants that he was a deputy sheriff and that he was intended to search the buggy.

Reports have it that Kelly saw there was no whisky in the buggy and he forbade the officers searching the vehicle. Granger is reported as having said that he did not see any harm in searching the buggy and proceeded to do so. Reports heard on the street vary as to whether the shooting started prior to the searching of the buggy.

At any rate, according to Taylor Spivey, Granger was fired upon by a man afterwards identified to be Graves Kelly. The bullet penetrated the right side of Granger's heart. Granger then, after being fatally wounded, fired four shots at Kelly, but it is so far as is known, did not hit the man who fled.

Talmadge May placed a wounded comrade in the automobile and came to town. As he passed the intersection of Oak and Crawford streets, he called loudly for help, as the body of the deputy was slipping into the foot of the automobile. Although May did not stop the car, Wiles Deal, and further up the street, Lonnie Orr, jumped into the automobile and assisted in holding the wounded man in position.

Man Really Lynched In State Of Ohio

Gibsonburg, Ohio, Nov. 28.—The body of John H. Wiley, recently tried for the murder of his grandmother Mrs. Eva Kimble, was found hanging today within a few rods of where the murder occurred. Wiley is believed to have been lynched by neighbors dissatisfied with the verdict.

Wiley was convicted and sentenced to a new trial and released on bond. He was also charged with assault and battery on his grandmother, who was found beaten and shot near the body of Mrs. Kimble February 12. This case was to be tried later.

Wiley received several threatening letters after his release.

Mrs. Hubert Moog left yesterday for Pensacola for a few days' visit.

M. F. Dannon and wife went to Abbeville yesterday to spend the day.

RUB-MY-TISM

Will cure Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Headaches, Cramps, Colic, Sprains, Bruises, Cuts, Burns, Old Sores, Tetters, Ring-Worm, Eczema, etc. Antiseptic Anodyne, used internally or externally 25c

The automobile stopped at Brown's Drug Store, East Main street, and the body of Granger was laid upon the floor and physician was called. Before medical aid could arrive, a car cast about that time the wounded man is said to have breathed his last. In the interim, Talmadge May had left in his automobile seeking aid.

John May, Sheriff, who was near Ashford where he had to investigate a difficulty, was turned back to town and spent the night there. The buggy was taken to the county jail and the body of the deceased was placed in the morgue.

Father in Town

Representative T. L. Kelly, father of the deceased, was in town today and a coroner's inquest was held at the county jail. It was reported that he would endeavor to have his son's body returned to his home in Houston.

Funeral Today

The funeral services of Grady Granger, age about 26, were held this morning at the Friendship church at Granger, 21 miles from the city. Sheriff John May and Deputy Sheriff Aleck May, Ross, Tormish and Talmadge May, attended the funeral as did the wife of the dead officer and other relatives and friends.

Grady Granger's son, who was a member of the Granger family, was also present. He was a young man and was a member of the Granger family.

Had Mary Fied

When Sheriff John May was in town today, he was informed that a man named Mary Fied had been found hanging from a tree near the town of Gibsonburg, Ohio. This was the same man who was recently tried for the murder of his grandmother.

DIVERSIFICATION AND LIVE STOCK

James A. Wade, Chairman of the Alabama Cotton and Live Stock Association, said today that the cotton and live stock industries are the backbone of the Alabama economy.

The tremendously heavy infestation of boll weevils in the Alabama counties and the consequent and exceedingly high price of fertilizing materials is causing a great deal of alarm, especially among tenants and small land holders who have heretofore looked forward to corn and cotton as the basis of their crops. In view of the fact that cotton is uncertain with the presence of the weevil and it takes a great deal of fertilizer to grow other corn or cotton, the plight of the small landowner and the tenant farmers is much more serious than the average farmer has considered it.

A great deal has been said about diversified crops which is very good but has less significance to this indigent class than perhaps that of any other. The tenant cannot diversify with the consent of the landlord and his or some other financial assistance. If you would advise people of limited circumstances to diversify, it is not to be recommended for them to do so in such a diversified way that would meet the approval of the landlord or the party who is looking after the enterprise financially.

Would it be possible for you to recommend some crop that you would handle yourself at the prevailing price situation, that would be a profitable condition in which you could receive such production? If such encouragement could be offered with profit to the tenant, it would be a great help to him. It would be a great help to him in the way of diversifying his crops and in the way of diversifying his crops.

It would be a great help to him in the way of diversifying his crops and in the way of diversifying his crops. It would be a great help to him in the way of diversifying his crops and in the way of diversifying his crops.

The live stock industry holds out the greatest future possibility. Hon. J. S. He said that the live stock industry is the only industry that is growing in the South.

Point Made By Watson May Cause Long Battle

Augusta, Ga., Nov. 28.—Trial of Thomas E. Watson, of Thomas, Ga., charged with sending obscene matter through the United States mails, will be resumed in Federal court here tomorrow with prospects of a lengthy battle on Watson's plea that the entire copies of his publication containing the alleged improper matter should be placed before the jury and not merely the articles objected to by the government. It also was said that Watson might take the stand in his own defense.

Watson, who is a member of the Georgia bar, has acted as his own chief counsel, has summoned no witnesses but has reserved the right to introduce them should he believe it necessary. The government completed its introduction of evidence shortly before the adjournment of court Saturday and rested its case. Watson thus far has declined to introduce any evidence and has not yet taken the stand. He has, however, introduced a number of articles from his publication, the "States Rights," which he claims are not obscene.

Watson also was expected to make another effort to delay the trial by moving to dismiss the articles introduced by the government. He also is expected to move to dismiss the articles introduced by the government.

Steel Mills Turn Down More Than They Accept

New York, November 28.—More orders for rolled and forged steel were turned away last week than were accepted. Even at that the volume of new business accepted was in excess of mill capacity, indicating that present plant congestion will be further extended. Domestic machinery manufacturers were especially urgent for steel to cover contracts. Prices were up to $1 to $2 on sheet bars, $2 on hoops and bands, $3 on spikes and shafting and $3 to $5 a ton on black and galvanized sheets.

White House Replies To Catholic Criticism

Washington, Nov. 28.—The administration's reply to those who criticize the recognition of the Carranza government in Mexico because of charges of outrage upon priests and nuns of the Catholic church was made public here tonight in a letter by Secretary Tumulty to Dr. James J. McGuire of Trenton, N. J., who recently wrote to the white house asking for an explanation of what he characterized as "wide-spread criticism."

Secretary Tumulty advised Dr. McGuire that the files of the state department failed to disclose any official record of a single proven case of outrage upon nuns and he included in his letter a statement by the Catholic vicar general at Mexico City, which while disclosing the shooting of priests, and the expulsion and imprisonment of others declared there had been no violation of nuns in that district.

Secretary Tumulty said in all ways the horrors of the conflict have been kept alive by those on the losing side but that it should be a duty of all citizens of both the United States and Mexico to contribute in every manner to the rehabilitation of the nation so long torn by civil strife and to avoid keeping open the wounds.

"Counsel and sympathy are needed and would be merited now because they would be of wonderful efficacy in uniting the people of Mexico in the work of reconstruction," wrote Mr. Tumulty. "Efforts to arouse antagonistic feelings among them will have the effect of opening new wounds which should be healed and of creating an open sore to fester that poisons people as long as their minds are kept inflamed against their brethren."

The secretary also called attention to the recognition of the Carranza government by the United States following the bloodiest of all civil wars ever waged in Mexico, marked by "all the bitterness and cruelty of a religious war."

Emphasis was laid on the recognition of Carranza by the Latin American countries which joined in the Pan American peace conference. All of these Latin American countries, Mr. Tumulty pointed out, were Catholic nations.

Finally, a statement was made of which was given the state department by Eliseo Arce, director of the Washington representative of General Carranza last October, pledging the Carranza government to respect everybody's "life, property and religious beliefs."

Secretary Tumulty included in his message a letter written by former Secretary Bryan last March to Rev. Francis C. Kelley of Chicago giving in detail various steps taken by the United States government during the progress of the revolution in Mexico. It previously has been published.

INGRAM DENIED NEW HEARINGS

Malcolm Ingram, who was tried on a charge of shooting and killing Eddie Bryant, a negro, in Frogtown during cotton picking season in 1914, and sentenced to five years in the penitentiary, has been denied a new trial by the higher courts, the ruling of the Circuit court having been upheld.

This means that unless some other action not yet announced is taken, the man will have to go to the penitentiary to serve out the sentence. It is not known what steps, if any, his lawyers have taken or contemplate taking.

STRUCK OVER HEAD

Jim Hyman was struck about the head and painfully injured by Dan Jenkins Saturday night, according to the police, the fracas having occurred in the rear of Albe Saliba's place, East Main street. Jenkins escaped.

NO NEGRO OUT

A report was industriously circulated Saturday night that the head of a negro was practically severed from the body, but the report could not be confirmed. The police knew nothing of such an occurrence, and they discredited the report.

A LITTLE LIQUOR NOW AND THEN.

It is said that a stray jug of moonshine over in the field where the men were at work, possibly caused a boy to be killed by dynamite. And it was moonshine, or just common tige whiskey that caused another death, making a sad young widow, and a sorrowful old woman, who had toiled and worked and prayed that her boy would keep in the straight and narrow path. The family of the young man who is charged with the killing is suffering as they haven't suffered before. They would restore the life the boy took at an unguarded moment if they could; but they cannot; they can sympathize, but that doesn't bring the husband back to the weeping widow. The law can take its course, but it's a sorry course, after all. It doesn't bring back the loved and lost; it cannot bring back peace and happiness to those hearts that have been torn by the dread bolts of destiny.

Puzzle: If the Houston county petty jurists fix four and six year sentences in the pen for cow stealing as about right, and one year for killing a man, how long will it take the people to see that it is cheaper to take a human life than it is to take the cow of another man?

THE EYES OF ANIMALS AND THE EYES OF MAN.

The balancing apparatus which we have in connection with our ears is found in practically all animals and also in the vegetable kingdom, but the organs of vision, so far as we know, are found only among the more highly developed animals. Independence of movement requires vision in order to secure food, escape injury and enemies. The nature direction and location of objects that are to be desired or feared is chiefly determined by eyesight; especially is this so when the higher animals are considered. Civilized man has greatly lost the sense of smell so far as the detecting of danger is concerned, and it is impossible for him to determine within wide limits the location of an object by the sense of hearing. But outside of monkeys, man is the only animal who has what we call binocular single vision, that is, he can tell not only the direction of an object, but fairly accurately its distance by the use of both eyes pointing at the same object at the same time like two range finders. Other animals do not direct both eyes at the same object at the same time. Their eyes are set more nearly at the sides of the head, so that they see not only forward, but backward.

The outside limits of vision of man is greater than half of the space in which he is placed, and his eyes can move accurately, noiselessly, with the greatest precision to any object to any part of his field of vision, and such movements may be supplemented by movements of the head and body. He sees well only at which he directly looks. His more peripheral vision chiefly assists him in discovering moving or other objects to which, if he wishes, he can direct his gaze. Even very poor vision in an eye may save a man from accident caused by some moving object, as a car or automobile coming up from the side. Therefore, the person who has two eyes, even if the vision of one eye is very poor, is less likely to be injured than the person with only one eye who cannot see to the side beyond his nose. One-eyed individuals are always more likely to meet with accidents than those who have two good eyes.

A KING.

(Temple Mirror)

He rode on the observation platform of a cotton wagon. His fleecy staple had just brought 12 cents per pound. The money was down in his pocket. No man had an account against him for a dime. The mules trotted along over the smooth pavement and now and then a big red apple jolted out of a heaping bucket and rolled back and forth across the wagon bed. A neat bundle over in the corner contained a dress pattern—ten yards of blue checked gingham for the faithful wife. The little bag was full of candy for the baby. He whistled as Pete and Beek turned their heads homeward. It was near eventide; a few clouds had gathered over in the west and the sun was cutting strange capers with these billows of the sky. There were islands of gold floating in a deep blue sea; there were mountains kissed with the colors of the rainbow. No painter could have made a prettier picture; no dreamer could have visited a scene more splendid in all the mysterious realms of slumberhood.

The occupant of the wagon enjoyed it. The fresh evening breezes were as balm to his brow. There was no enmity in his heart against anyone. There was no political ambition that had gone unsatisfied. There was no arrow of ingratitude to stick and sting and poison.

He was a plain country man. He loved his wife. He loved his baby. He was going home to them—a king wearing a royal crown of kindness—a king, tender, thoughtful, affectionate, bearing simple gifts to his subjects.

THE AUTHOR OF "A PAIR OF SIXES"
Edward Peple, the author of "A Pair of Sixes," the screamingly funny farce which will be presented at the Auditorium Tuesday night, November 30, is a Virginian by birth. He has been engaged in playwriting for more than ten years. Before that he started as an expert accountant with the American Bridge Co. Previous to his present successful play, he won a conspicuous place for himself among American dramatists with his comedy "The Prince Chap," in which Cyril Scott starred, and "The Littlest Rebel," in which the two Farnum brothers were the stars. Among his other plays are "The Spillfire," which had a long run at the Lyceum theatre New York, "The Love Route," and others.

"The Thinkers of the Country Are the Tobacco Chewers" said one of the greatest thinkers this country ever produced.

The Man As Keen As A Sharp-Edged Tool—is not the one who chews strong, black tobacco.

When you want a workman who can "cut to the line", look for a PICNIC TWIST chewer. The mildly stimulating effect of mild PICNIC TWIST makes eye and nerve alert and keeps them so. The "keeping them so" is where strong tobaccos "fall down".

Chew the long-lasting sweetness of PICNIC TWIST as you work. When the whistle blows you'll feel all right.

And PICNIC TWIST'S mildness does not rob it of any of the taste you expect your tobacco to have. Every soft, mellow TWIST of PICNIC is chuck full of "good tobacco-ness".

PICNIC TWIST

CHEWING TOBACCO

Chew a 5c TWIST and you will want one of those eleven TWIST air-tight drums that keep each TWIST fresh until used.

"BRINGING UP FATHER"

When a manager essays to be revolutionary and attempts to offer the public something that is new in the way of theatricals he is certain to be rewarded provided he of course elects to make his wares come within easy access of the humblest pocket. This does not necessarily mean that he must upset convention and cut prices down to the bone. The public is always willing to pay for the good things in the entertainment line but it wants that entertainment to be really the best and not a misrepresentation. In extolling the virtues of the new three act comedy "Bringing Up Father," which is headed for the Auditorium Wednesday, December 1, we do not think we are exceeding the bounds of ordinary praise by stating that the piece has all the qualities of a capital and worthy production. It was constructed for laughing purposes exclusively and thus far has fulfilled its purpose. In addition it has a strong company, excellent scenic adornment, racy songs, original features and a plot that can be understood and followed without the aid of a libretto. The fun is not the result of horse play or slap stick, it accrues from witty lines and birth compelling situations, while the action is spirited and natural. As the title indicates the comedy is based on the drawings and cartoons of George McManus, whose effusions have found their way into the best dailies throughout the country. "Father" is an easy going but resourceful person. He is the "goat" for a time, but like the proverbial worm he turns and when he does there is the dance to play. He accomplishes a much needed reform in his growing family and just how it succeeds, we will leave to the play itself.

CALOMEL WHEN BILIOUS? NO! STOP! MAKES YOU SICK AND SALVATES

"Dodson's Liver-Tone" is Harmless To Clean Your Stomach Liver and Bowels.

Ugh! Calomel makes you sick. It's horrible! Take a dose of the dangerous drug-tongue and tomorrow you may lose a day's work. Calomel is mercury or quicksilver which causes necrosis of the bones. Calomel, when it comes into contact with your bile crumbles into it, breaking it up. This is when you feel that awful nausea and cramping. If you are sluggish and "all knocked out," if your liver is torpid and bowels constipated or you have headache, dizziness, coated tongue, if breath is bad or stomach sour, just try a spoonful of harmless Dodson's Liver-Tone tonight on my guarantee.

Here's my guarantee—Go to any drug store and get a 50 cent bottle of Dodson's Liver-Tone. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't straighten you right up and make you feel fine and vigorous I want you to go back to the store and get your money. Dodson's Liver-Tone is destroying the sale of calomel because it is real liver medicine; entirely vegetable, therefore it can not salfate or make you sick. I guarantee that one spoonful of Dodson's Liver-Tone will put your sluggish liver to work and clean your bowels of that sour bile and constipated waste which is clogging your system and making you feel miserable. I guarantee that a bottle of Dodson's Liver-Tone will keep your entire family feeling fine for months. Give it to your children. It is harmless; doesn't grip and they like its pleasant taste.

FOR BRONCHITIS, WHOOPING COUGH, CROUP, COUGHS AND COLDS

Make the Best Remedy at Home—125 Teaspoonful for 50 cents.

If everything was sold in as liberal and fair a manner as N. H. McCallum is selling Schiffmann's New Concentrated Expecto-rant, absolutely no cause for complaint or dissatisfaction could possibly arise from anyone. This druggist says: "Buy a bottle of this remedy and try it for Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Severe Cough, Croup or any Bronchial Affection, and we will return your money, just as we do with Schiffmann's famous Asthma-dor, if it does not give satisfaction, or not found the best remedy ever used for any of these complaints." Why not take advantage of this guarantee and try this medicine, and get your money back, rather than buying another purely on the exaggerated claims of its manufacturer or on the strength of testimonials from others and run the chance of getting something worthless and also wasting your money? In buying this remedy, besides Paul, Miss.

from a hundred years ago it French Market Coffee, like all European coffee, was at all times—even at mid-railways it was grown as the of New Orleans society.

The Old-time Coffee Secret Still a Secret

The secret of the wonderful blend of French Market Coffee of fifty years ago is still the despair of those who would imitate it—and still the delight of those who want coffee such as is used by the Parisians, Turks, Arabs and Moors—the coffee connoisseurs of the world.

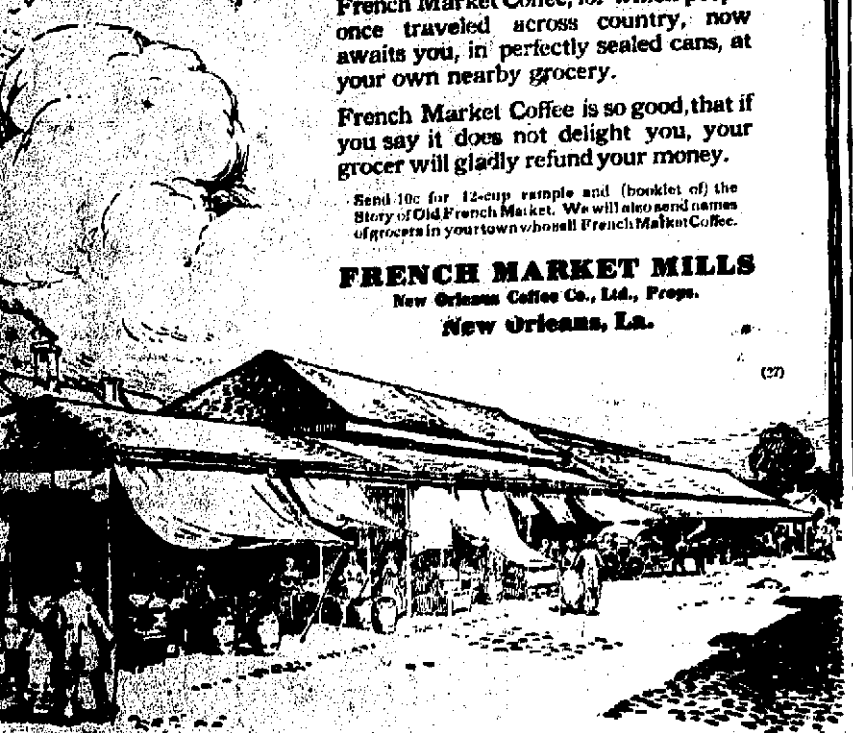

In olden days people went hundreds of miles to the famous French Market in New Orleans for this wonderful blend.

French Market Coffee, for which people once traveled across country, now awaits you, in perfectly sealed cans, at your own nearby grocery.

French Market Coffee is so good, that if you say it does not delight you, your grocer will gladly refund your money.

Send 10c for 12-cup sample and (booklet of) the Story of Old French Market. We will also send names of grocers in your town who sell French Market Coffee.

HOW TO GAIN FLESH

Remarkable Statement of a Woman Who Was Nothing but Skin and Bones.

Laugh and grow fat is a home-ly saying, but Mrs. Elizabeth L. Morris of Hammond, La., tells of a more reliable method. She says:

"I cannot say enough in praise of Vinol, for it saved my life. I was weak, nervous, run-down, could not sleep, was unfit for work and was nothing but skin and bones. Three doctors had all failed to help me. One day I saw Vinol advertised, took course and bought a bottle and it soon made me feel better. I continued its use and such a change! I have regained my strength, flesh and health, am perfectly well, and the doctor was surprised to see such a change in me in such a short time." Elizabeth Morris, Hammond, La.

The reason Vinol proved such a wonderful strength creator in Mrs. Morris' case was because of the peptone of iron, beef peptone and the extractives of fresh cod livers, without oil, combined in a pure native tonic wine, which makes Vinol a most wonderful tonic. N. H. McCallum, Druggist.

THE TITLE, "A PAIR OF SIXES"

Like all things which succeed, the title "A Pair of Sixes," seems to be just the exact name to fit the supremely funny farce which will be seen at the Auditorium Tuesday night, November 30. It refers to the incident in the play which caused two partners to disagree and start a whirl of fun which is now being enjoyed the country over. Beyond that, the title has nothing to do with what has been termed one great American indoor card game. There is, of course, a queen of hearts in the cast. She

"CODDLES," THE FUNNY HOUSEMAID IN "A PAIR OF SIXES"

One of the most original comic characters new to the stage is that of "Coddles," the eccentric housemaid in "A Pair of Sixes," which will be seen at the Auditorium, Tuesday, November 30. She is angular and quaint in appearance and is prominent in the action of the play through her infatuation for Boggs, one of the rich partners who is forced to act as butler in his partner's household. Coddles believes that he is a sure enough servant and sets her cap for him, greatly to his distress and peace of mind. The character made such a hit in New York that the newspapers devoted columns to it. The part will be played here by a well known actress, who was for many years a prominent star.
